As part of our continuing efforts to make business-friendly reforms, the Authority is pleased to announce that our online price posting upgrades are now available for use by manufacturers and wholesalers to review and work on completing in the new user-friendly format.

For the convenience of price posters, both the new and old price posting systems will remain available for use until the May, 2014 retail wine and retail liquor price postings (due April 7, 2014) when only the new price posting system will be available. Additionally, the new system has been pre-populated with existing February, 2014 price posting data to help ease the transition to the new system.
