

On Wednesday, September 30, 2015, Governor Andrew M. Cuomo will hold "Capital for a Day," an initiative that brings the administration's top leadership and cabinet members to regions throughout the state for a day at a time, providing a new opportunity for state government to interact with local communities. The Central New York region will host the Governor's third "Capital for a Day."

As part of this special program, Vincent Bradley, Chairman of the State Liquor Authority cordially invites you to a free Alcohol Training Awareness Program (ATAP) for licensees and servers at 10:00 am at SUNY Cortland, Corey Hall located at 103 Prospect Terrace, Cortland. In addition to the training, State Liquor Authority staff will be available to discuss local priorities, state policy, and program initiatives that are important to the Central New York region, as well as to hear from you how we can improve the delivery of state services for New Yorkers.

In order to participate, please register in advance at scott\_esrta@verizon.net by 2PM, Tuesday, September 30, 2015.

Note: This invitation is non-transferable, unregistered guests may not be permitted, and a valid form of photo ID must be presented at the entrance for admission.
